Data Protection and Confidentiality Policy

Scope

The 1998 Data Protection Act came into force on 1 March 2000. The purpose of the Act is to protect the rights of individuals about whom data (information) is obtained, stored, processed, and disclosed.

What is data protection?

Data protection is essentially that area of the law that governs what may, and what may not be done with personal information. Such personal information may be in electronic (e.g., stored on computer hard drive) or manual form (in a manual filing system). Please refer to the cookie policy for guidance and if you would like to view your file store in our filing cabinet, please contact us to arrange an appointment for that effect. Girlfridayz usually provides a copy of work carried or service agreement returned to us with your signature, date and name, invoices and any other update via email or correspondence to our customers and the same information is kept on file.

The law

The Data Protection Act is mandatory and Girlfridayz is therefore required under law to comply with the Act. This means that Girlfridayz must:

- Notify any law centre or citizen advice bureau
- Adhere to the eight data protection principles below
- Educate and train staff in the correct use of data

Consequences of breaching the Data Protection Act:

- Girlfridayz customers, partners, staff, associate or third party can be criminally liable if they knowingly or recklessly disclose personal data in breach of the Act.
- At Girlfridayz we take seriously breach of data protection and it is also a disciplinary offense and will be dealt with under Girlfridayz complaint procedures and Girlfridayz may refer the breach to a law centre, citizen advice bureau which would notify the Information Commissioner of the types of processing they would undertake on behalf of Girlfridayz.

Policy Statement

Girlfridayz is committed to fulfilling its legal obligations within the provisions of the Data Protection Act and has a cookie policy and privacy policy in force.

The Eight Data Protection principles

Girlfridayz abides by and respects the eight principles of data (information) processing with which the data controller must ensure compliance. In this instance, Girlfridayz is the 'data controller'.

Personal data shall be:

Principle 1: processed fairly and lawfully

Principle 2: obtained only for the purpose stated

Principle 3: adequate, relevant and not excessive

Principle 4: accurate and, where necessary, kept up-to-date

Principle 5: not be kept for longer than is necessary for that purpose

Principle 6: processed in accordance with the rights of data subjects under the Act

Principle 7: appropriate technical and organisational measures shall be taken against unauthorised or unlawful processing of personal data and against accidental loss or destruction of, or damage to, personal data

Principle 8: not transferred to countries without adequate protection

6. Compliance with data protection principles

Principle 1: Processed fairly and lawfully

This means that when Girlfridayz is collecting personal information from individuals:

- that they are made aware of the uses of this information

- individual consent has been obtained for any secondary uses of their personal information
- individuals are made aware of disclosures of their personal information to third parties.

Information held by Girlfridayz includes details on the following:

- Customer
- personnel
- applicants for recruitment and selection
- training participants
- mailing lists
- Sensitive personal information

The Data Protection Act introduces categories of sensitive personal information as to an individual's:

- Racial or ethnic origin
- Political opinion
- Religious beliefs or other beliefs of a similar nature
- Trade union membership
- Physical or mental health condition
- Sexual life
- Criminal or alleged offenses
- Criminal proceedings, convictions, or disposal of proceedings

Girlfridayz processes sensitive data for the following purposes:

- Advice/legal proceedings
- Employment law obligations
- Vital interests of the data subject
- Legal rights
- Insurance and pensions

Principle 2: Obtained only for the purpose stated

Personal information can only be obtained for one or more specified and lawful purposes and should not be processed in any manner incompatible with those purposes.

- Staff administration
- Administration of membership records
- Fundraising
- Realising the objectives of a charitable organization or voluntary body

Principle 3: Adequate, relevant and not excessive

Girlfridayz will only hold personal information, which is adequate, relevant and not excessive in relation to the purpose or purposes for which they are processed. This means that the minimum of personal information should be held to fulfill its purpose. It is not acceptable to hold information on the basis that it might be useful in the future without a view of how it will be used. Girlfridayz has a responsibility to continually monitor compliance with this principle and to audit what information is kept.

Principle 4: Accurate and, where necessary, kept up to date

This principle places a duty on Girlfridayz to take reasonable steps to ensure the accuracy of the information processed on Girlfridayz database.

- In collecting information Girlfridayz needs to take all reasonable steps to make sure the information is correct, and the source of the information is reliable and to check this, if necessary.
- Similarly, third parties who supply information or attend a meeting held by Girlfridayz or customers of Girlfridayz to Girlfridayz should advise Girlfridayz of any corrections or amendments that need to be made.
- The significance of the inaccuracy is important, obviously minor inaccuracies which have no impact are of less importance but nevertheless the validity of the data provided should be checked.
- Any inaccuracies should be corrected as soon as possible to limit the damage and distress caused.
- Any information should include the source and date, and any alterations should be dated.

Principle 5: Not kept longer than is necessary

Girlfridayz will ensure that personal information is not retained any longer than is necessary. This will require Girlfridayz to undertake regular assessment and deletion. Hence Girlfridayz will keep your information on file for as long as the life of our work with you and thereafter we will keep your file in storage for a duration of 10 yrs. which thereafter will be destroyed.

Girlfridayz are legally obliged to keep customer files and financial records for a period of 6 years

Principle 6: Processed in accordance with the rights of data subjects under the Act

Customers have a general right of access to their own personal information, which is processed by Girlfridayz in accordance with established Girlfridayz procedures. They have the right:

- To have a copy of the information
- To stop processing where this is likely to cause distress
- To have information rectified, blocked or erased
- Claim compensation

Principle 7: Appropriate technical and organizational measures shall be taken against unauthorized or unlawful processing of personal data and against accidental loss or destruction of, or damage to, personal data. Girlfridayz has a duty to ensure that appropriate security measures are in place when handling personal information. This applies to both information technology and manual files.

Considering the new GDPR and the new Data Protection Directive as the GDPR also brings a new set of "digital rights" for EU citizens in an age of an increase of the economic value of personal data in the digital economy, at Girlfridayz we updated our Privacy and Cookies policy to be in line with the law.

The lawful basis for processing under the GDPR coming in force on the 25-05-18

- Girlfridayz will not be requesting any data or processed your data unless there is at least one lawful basis to do so:
- Girlfridayz will ensure that consent has been granted by the data subject to the processing of personal data for one or more specific purposes.
- Girlfridayz processing of customers data is necessary for the performance of a contract held with us to which the data subject is a party or to take steps at the request of the data subject prior to entering a contract.
- Girlfridayz will only process your data as necessary for compliance with a legal obligation to which the controller is subject.
- Girlfridayz will only process your data as necessary to protect the vital interests of the data subject or of another natural person.
- Girlfridayz will only process your data as necessary for the performance of a task carried out in the public interest or in the exercise of official authority vested in the controller.

- Processing your data is necessary for the purposes of the legitimate interests pursued by the controller Girlfridayz or by a third party unless such interests are overridden by the interests or fundamental rights and freedoms of the data subject, which require protection of personal data, if the data subject is a child and Girlfridayz will abide by this rule.

Consent

If consent is used as the lawful basis for processing, consent must be explicit for data collected and the purposes data is used for as defined in Article 7; defined in Article 4. Girlfridayz does not work with children, therefore, will not be seeking consent for children or their parent.

Girlfridayz has a consent form which allowed the customers to withdraw or withhold consent if they wish too and you have access to it via our disclosure policy.

Girlfridayz does not record our customers and welcomes this change in the law. The area of GDPR consent has several implications for businesses who record calls as a matter of practice. The typical “calls are recorded for training and security purposes” warnings will no longer be sufficient to gain assumed consent to record calls. Additionally, when recording has commenced, should the caller withdraw their consent then the agent receiving the call must somehow be able to stop a previously started recording and ensure the recording does not get stored.

If we need at someone point of our business to record our conversation with customers, we will seek your consent in writing to ensure compliance with the GDPR and recording is explicitly discussed in our disclosure policy.

Right of access

The right of access (Article 15) is a data subject right. It gives citizens the right to access their personal data and information about how this personal data is being processed. Girlfridayz will provide, upon request, an overview of the categories of data that are being processed as well as a copy of the actual data. Furthermore, Girlfridayz will inform the data subject on details about the processing, such as the purposes of the processing with whom the data is shared, and how it acquired the data.

Right to erasure

A right to be forgotten was replaced by a more limited right of erasure in the version of the GDPR that was adopted by the European Parliament in March 2014. Article 17 provides that the data subject has the right to request erasure of personal data related to them on any one grounds, including noncompliance with Article 6(1) (lawfulness) that includes a case (f) if the legitimate interest of the controller is overridden by the interests or fundamental rights and freedoms of the data subject, which require protection of personal data. Girlfridayz will abide by this rule.

Glossary

Data: means information in a form in which it can be processed (automatically)

Personal data: means data relating to a living individual who can be identified either from the data or from the data in conjunction with other information in the possession of the data controller

Data controller: is a person who, either alone or with others, controls the contents and use of personal data

Data processor: is a person who processes personal data on behalf of a data controller, but does not include an employee of a data controller who processes such data in the course of his/her employment

Data subject: the individual person who is the subject of any relevant personal data (information)

A personal data-filing system: any structured set of personal data accessible according to specific criteria whether centralised, decentralised or dispersed on a functional or geographical basis

Third party: someone other than the data subject, controller, processor and persons with the authority of the controller or processor to process the data

The recipient is the person to whom data is disclosed. This would include employees, community, supplier, third parties, friend, and family. The data subject must be informed of the recipients of the data.

Data subject's consent means any freely given specific and informed indication of his/her wishes by which the data subject signifies his agreement to personal data to him/her being processed. Consent may need further clarification e.g., should it be in some permanent form, it can be electronic, in writing or oral consent.
